To the Honorable Janet Napolitano Governor of the State of Arizona

Dear Governor Napolitano:

We are pleased to submit to you and the citizens of Arizona the summary report of the Commission for the 2005 fiscal year. This report fulfills the requirements of the act that established the Arizona Commission on the Arts (A.R.S. 41-981).

Through the Arizona Commission on the Arts, the State makes a strategic investment of public dollars that create value through the arts. We can point to four areas where the arts play key roles in improving the quality of life and are delivering value to the Grand Canyon State.

Opportunities for all Arizonans to Participate

- Reports for 2004-05 show 7,298,662 people in all Arizona counties participated in Arts Commission-sponsored programs; some people who attended multiple events may be reported more than once.
- 31% of projects take place in rural areas.
- 15% of projects were initiated by ethnic-run organizations.
- ARTability - Accessing Arizona's Arts is a statewide consortium - the only of its kind in the nation - connecting people with disabilities to arts experiences. More than 50 state organizations engage older Arizonans and individuals with disabilities through physical access to arts facilities, large print programs, open captioning and audio description.

Preparing the Thinkers of Tomorrow

- More than 1,888,433 students reached by Arts Commission-sponsored activities and programs.
- 319 projects reached Arizona's young people and students (66% of all ACA projects).
- Education projects include artists-in-residence in schools and after-school programs, artist-teacher institutes, outreach by arts organizations, programs by organizations whose primary mission is arts education.

Building Vital Communities

- State dollars invested stimulated more than $107 million in matching funds from other sources, including individuals, foundations, corporations and governments.
- We continue to develop ways to enhance cultural tourism throughout the state through workshops, partnerships, and direct grants.
- Community festivals demonstrate Arizona's unique cultures to broad audiences. These festivals include Hispanic music festivals, Chinese Week, Native American Culture Days and others.

Investing in the Future of Arizona's Businesses

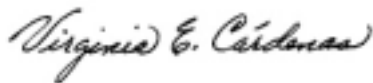

- State funding provides a foundation of support to 135 small-to-large arts organizations.
- The interest income from the State Arts Endowment provides training in financial and strategic planning and the development of working capital reserves.

This year the agency renewed its commitment to participation in the arts

Project applications are reviewed by community members from across the state. These panelists represent the diversity and range of Arizona's population and are grounded in the arts and education field. These panels review application materials and make recommendations for funding to the Commission, who then makes the final decisions on allocation of funds.

Agency policy is guided by the fifteen Governor-appointed Commission members. Additional connections to the community take place with community leaders, educators, artists, and arts professionals who take part in the Commission's planning process.

Yours Respectfully,

Virginia Cárdenas
Commission Chair

Agency Overview

The Arizona Commission on the Arts is the state agency that connects artists and communities across the Grand Canyon State. With a staff of 16, the Commission manages an array of diverse programs and services for Arizona residents.

Our Mission

An Arizona where people broaden, deepen and diversify their engagement with the arts, as creators, audiences and supporters, in ways that are satisfying and integral to their lives.

Goals

- Arizonans live and work in healthy, vibrant communities, through the arts.
- Arizonans implement public policy that recognizes and supports the pivotal role of the arts in society.
- Arizonans experience lifelong opportunities to participate, create and learn through the arts.

The History

When Congress created the National Endowment for the Arts in 1965, they also gave funding to all state governments to form state arts commissions and asked them to conduct surveys of each state's existing facilities, organizations and individuals engaged in the arts. Governor Samuel P. Goddard established the Arizona Commission on the Arts and Humanities as a state council by executive order on January 24, 1966. The 28th Arizona Legislature passed S.B. 139, establishing the Arizona Commission on the Arts and Humanities as a permanent state agency, and Governor Jack Williams signed the bill on March 13, 1967.

The Arts Commission became the official agency of the State of Arizona "to stimulate and encourage public interest in the cultural resources, through the study and presentation of the performing arts and fine arts, to ensure that their role in the life of our communities will continue to grow and will play an even more significant part in the welfare and educational experience of our citizens." In 1982, Governor Bruce Babbitt signed enabling legislation continuing the agency to 1992, and changing its name to the Arizona Commission on the Arts. Again in 1992, the Legislature and Governor Fife Symington reinstated the agency until 2002. In 2001, the Auditor General's office conducted a nine-month-long Sunset Audit. The following year, the Legislature reauthorized the agency until 2012.

Agency Overview

The Commission's leadership reaches into all areas of the state, supporting programs that contribute to student learning, connect people in rural communities and urban centers, that preserve the rich traditions of Arizona's ethnic communities, encourage participation by people with disabilities and by citizens of all ages and strengthen artistic and administrative skills of arts organizations to help position them to better serve the people of Arizona.

Through the Arizona Commission on the Arts, the state makes a strategic investment of public dollars to assure Arizona's competitive edge in attracting knowledge workers and their businesses. The diversity of our artistic offerings also becomes a magnet for attracting tourists. This public investment encourages contributions from the private sector and leverages these dollars many times over, contributing enormously to the quality of life and education opportunities the people of Arizona expect.

The agency represents the arts in policy discussions including economic development, cultural tourism, education, community development, public art and transportation design.

The Arts Commission

The Commission consists of a governing board of fifteen members, including one chairperson, appointed by the Governor of Arizona. Commission members serve terms of three years and are chosen for their demonstrated ability, good judgment and experience in arts-related fields. In addition, they are selected to ensure the geographic and ethnic representation of all areas of the state. Commission members attend quarterly Commission meetings, chair selection panels, award grants and formulate policy consistent with the enabling legislation.

All grants and awards from the Arts Commission are made in accordance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, American Disabilities Act, the Age Discrimination Act of 1975 and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972.

Program Areas

What does the Commission do?

The Commission is known as a funder but also as an essential resource for information, research and consultation about the arts industry. The Commission is also respected as a leader in the national and Arizona arts community.

Information and Referral

The Commission offers staff and consultant resources with expertise in arts disciplines and community development provide referrals and information to help artists and arts organizations connect most effectively with their communities. Areas of expertise include organization development, community participation building, grants preparation, marketing, fundraising and board development.

The Commission houses a specialized non-circulating library, the Arts Resource Center, with current publications on copyright, taxes, legal issues, health hazards in the arts, arts participation, fundraising, management, marketing, publicity, board development and facility planning.

The Commission also has an extensive website so that constituents can access information from anywhere in the state at any time.

Research

The Commission receives and maintains a wide array of current information, data and materials in arts, arts education and related areas. The Commission can guide people to these resources through our website and publications available in our Arts Resource Center or to research at other service organizations and public agencies. The Commission also tracks research and statistics on a broad range of areas from cultural tourism to economic impact studies of the arts to the influence of arts education on student learning.

The Understanding Participation project (UP), Arizona's partnership with The Wallace Foundation, provides additional research and learning about what motivates people to participate in the arts along with strategies to put this knowledge into action. As well, we are learning to articulate and demonstrate the public value of the arts and the state arts agency.

Professional/Staff Assistance

Commission program staff have expertise and experience in arts administration, arts disciplines and as facilitators. Constituents are encouraged to speak with staff about potential projects; discuss organizational or career development issues; ways in which they would like to connect to others in their communities or artforms; or to facilitate staff and board discussions.

The Commission's Peer Consultant Roster offers consultants with experience in board development, marketing, fundraising, cultural tourism, community cultural inventories, arts participation research projects, accessibility and other specialized areas. The Commission makes the Consultant Services Program available to arts organizations to assist with the costs of one-day consultancies. Consultancies leave organizations with ideas and tools to move forward on their own.

Convening

The Commission has become a catalyst and facilitator in bringing together members of the arts community around important issues.

Each year the Commission sponsors the annual Southwest Arts Conference (SWAC) to discuss current topics in the arts. More than 400 arts workers from around the state attend to hear national speakers and panels. Additionally the staff convenes 10 to 15 community workshops each year. By bringing together groups of people, the staff can learn about issues in specific disciplines (music, dance, theatre, visual arts, literature) or programs such as arts education, presenting and others.

The Commission has also been instrumental in the creation of the Alliance for Audience (ShowUp.com), a new collaboration between arts groups, that works to make ticket purchasing easier for consumers and create an online arts calendar that list upcoming events.

In addition to their many other duties, Commission staff serve on panels, provide technical assistance, and attend many convenings around the state such as the Governor's Conference on Tourism, Arizona Department of Education, the Department of Commerce's Rural Economic Development Conference, Arizona Department of Transportation T-21 Committee and the Arizona Museum Conference. The Commission also works with the Main Street programs to discuss how design and programmatic issues in the arts that affect the economic viability of rural areas.

Technology

For six years, the Commission has been a partner with the Phoenix Arts Commission and others in Arizona ArtsPlace. This grant program helped Arizona arts organizations maximize their online capabilities. This program is currently on hiatus. In its place, the Commission's website contains information on technology resources for arts and nonprofit organizations. In 2005, the agency launched EGOR (Electronic Grant Online Resource) for electronic submission of organization and school grants.

Funding

Funding offers the State of Arizona direct methods to improve the quality and depth of programs available to the people of Arizona.

Organizations

The Arts Commission offers General Operating Support grants to not-for-profit arts organizations to provide the stability and infrastructure. This support allows organizations of all sizes to develop and present high quality and effective programs for the public. This support is also available for local arts agencies and tribal museums.

The Commission also awards Project grants in the disciplines of design and public art, literature, music, dance, multidisciplinary, theatre and visual and media arts. Project grants strengthen the quality of artistic resources available to communities. These art forms may be produced by discipline companies or provided to their communities by presenting organizations or festivals.

Other special initiatives include Meet the Composer and Dance on Tour, and working with the Arizona Department of Transportation to include enhancement projects within transportation design (T-21).

Arts Learning Project grants connect practicing artists in all disciplines with schools, after-school programs, libraries, museums and other community settings. These programs reinforce the value of the arts as an essential part of basic education, support the implementation of the Arizona Arts Standards and provide students and teachers opportunities to explore the arts and participate in hands-on creative experiences with artists.

Special initiatives have included the Anti-Drug A.P.P.L.E. Corps, a partnership between artists, private enterprise, prosecutors, law enforcement and educators. This program placed artists in after-school programs to help youth, family and community reject drugs with support from the Maricopa County Attorney's Office.

Artist Teacher Institutes introduce teachers from all grade levels in two-three day seminars to the arts, the arts standards and ways to utilize the standards in their teaching practice. The Arizona Arts Education Research Institute supports research in arts education in partnership among the Commission, the Arizona Department of Education and the fine arts colleges of the three universities.

Individual Artists

Artist Projects encourage artists to pursue research and development and to extend their mastery of their art forms.

The online Residency Roster compiles a listing of juried artists in many disciplines who are interested and available to work in schools and communities.

Artists with official invitations to perform and present their work from governments outside of the United States may be selected for the International Arts Exchange.

Artists can also apply for Professional Development awards to attend conferences and learning opportunities in order to further their professional artistic and management development.

With the increasing popularity of the internet, the Commission has helped create three programs that connect artists to audiences via this new technology. ArtistsRegister.com is a non-juried listing for visual artists; WritersRegister.com for writers and PerformingArtistsRegister.com for performing artists. The three online registers are managed by the Western States Arts Federation. The ArtistsRegister.com/Arizona is supported in Arizona with other partners including the Phoenix Arts Commission, Tucson/Pima Arts Council, Mesa Arts Center, Scottsdale Museum of Contemporary Art, Glendale Arts Council, Chandler Cultural Foundation.

To connect people with disabilities with the arts, the Commission is part of a consortium of 40 organizations called ARTability.

In-depth information on all these topics can be found on the website at www.azarts.gov.

Financial Assistance

Awarded by the Commission (alphabetical by county and city)

This section details each individual grant made to organizations and individuals in FY05. Organized alphabetically by county, and then by municipality within the county, this lists each grantee and the title of the project or grant type, and the sources of funds for the grant.

How Were These Grants Selected?

All grants are awarded through a process in which the organization or individual applies for support. If they meet eligibility requirements, their application is reviewed through the applicable process and criteria. Applicants must document and certify the use of the funds before payment is made, and they report on the project after completion.

Where Does the Money Come From?

Federal funds are provided through Congressional appropriations to the National Endowment for the Arts; Arizona receives funds through a Partnership Agreement (a portion is calculated by formula and a portion through a competitive review process) and Challenge America (designed to support programs in underserved areas).

State funds are appropriated by the Arizona State Legislature. ATF denotes the Arts Trust Fund; these grants are specifically designated for general operating support for arts organizations from a portion of the annual filing of businesses with the Corporation Commission, interest income from the state portion of Arizona ArtShare, the state's arts endowment housed in the State Treasury and private funds at the Arizona Community Foundation. Other funds come from interest generated by Arizona ArtShare, the state arts endowment fund; RICO funds through the Maricopa County Attorney's Office to support Anti-Drug A.P.P.L.E. Corps projects; Meet the Composer, Inc.; and The Wallace Foundation

“For both the important knowledge and skills they impart and the ways in which they help students to succeed in school and in life, the arts are an important part of a complete education.”

--Rod Paige, U.S. Secretary of Education (July 2004 letter to U.S. Superintendents)

Financial Reports FY 2005

Funds are received from four sources:

General Fund, appropriated annually by the State Legislature for Community Service Projects and agency administration

Arts Fund, a combination of federal funds and other local funds (RICO, fees for service/registration, the fine arts departments of Arizona State University, Northern Arizona University and University of Arizona and The Wallace Foundation.*+

Arts Trust Fund, a portion of the annual filing fee for for-profit corporations, collected by the Arizona Corporation Commission for grants for general operating support of arts organizations

Arts Endowment, interest earned on state contributions to the state arts endowment fund, and on private contributions to Arizona ArtShare funds at the Arizona Community Foundation and Community Foundation for Southern Arizona

“Children whose hearts and minds are nourished and challenged in wholesome ways—such as by art, dance, theater, and sports—are much less likely to succumb to the lure of crime.”
--Richard Romley, Maricopa County District Attorney
